

COLONEL STRIKES AT PRES TAFT

ASSERTED THAT THE PRESIDENT
HAD MADE UNTRUTHFUL STATEMENTS.

Defends Charge That Hanna, an Indicted Man, Is Supporting Him—Says Perkins Made an Unpaid Loan to the Taft Campaign Four Years Ago.

Cleveland, O., May 18.—For one hour tonight Col. Theodore Roosevelt faced a large crowd in the Central Armory here and struck repeated blows at President Taft.

He asserted that the president had made untruthful statements about him. He declared that the president's action in the Ballinger case was such that had he taken a similar course as president of a bank, "he would have been in imminent danger of having the matter laid before the district attorney."

He attacked Mr. Taft for alluding to the fact that Dan R. Hanna, of Cleveland, son of the late Senator Mark Hanna, was supporting him, and that Hanna had been indicted on the charge of rebating.

As he brought his speech to an end he said: "I am against Mr. Taft because Mr. Taft proved faithless to the cause of the American people."

Mr. Roosevelt spent the day in traveling through central Ohio, making a dozen speeches. In Cleveland tonight he spoke first in the Armory and then went to the steel mill district in the south end of the city and delivered his last address of the day. He will spend Sunday with James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior, at his home, Mentor, Ohio.

Mr. Taft is not content," Col. Roosevelt in opening his address at the Central Armory, "to fight this issue on broad grounds of policy. Yesterday, he is his own person, and through his private secretary, made a number of bitter, and incidentally, untruthful, personal attacks upon me."

"He stated that I was being supported by Mr. Hanna, who was indicted, and he was content that I should have the support of those who were indicted and that he would like the support of those who were not indicted."

Col. Roosevelt then discussed the charge of rebating on which Mr. Hanna was indicted and its subsequent dismissal. He said that the facts of the case showed that "there was not the slightest moral delinquency on the part of Mr. Hanna because of the action for which he was indicted."

Col. Roosevelt then said that if Mr. Taft would read the current number of a weekly magazine he would find name after name of men among his southern delegates and supporters who have been indicted and have even served terms of imprisonment.

Referring to President Taft's allusions to the fact that George F. Perkins of New York had contributed to Col. Roosevelt's campaign fund, the colonel said that Mr. Perkins had given a larger amount of Mr. Taft's campaign fund four years ago and that the Taft campaign manager had borrowed $15,000 from Mr. Perkins which had never been repaid.

Col. Roosevelt said that President Taft expected "Messrs. Lorimer, Penrose, Barnes and his associates" to control the Chicago convention and override the will of the people.

"But," he continued, "I serve notice on behalf of the people that there will be no tolerating by the Republican party of such action."

"I would have preferred," he said in closing, "to keep this campaign down to a pure discussion of principles, but Mr. Taft has refused to allow it to be waged on those lines."

RICHESON REGAINS CALMNESS.
Boston, Mass., May 18.—Fourteen hours of refreshing sleep today served to transform Clarence V. T. Richeson, awaiting call to the death chair, in the state prison at Charlestown, from a condition of delirious hysteria to calmness and apparent resignation.

Reports from the death house tonight indicated that the slayer of Miss Avis Linnell was regaining the composure and self-control which has been a surprise to all who have studied him.

Application for the brain of Richeson was made today by an official of the Harvard Medical school, who desired to examine it for abnormal features. The request was referred to Richeson's family.

MYSTERY MAY NOW BE CLEARED

DEATH OF C. C. DILLON SHEDS
LIGHT ON LOS ANGELES MUR-DER.

Belief is That Dillon Lived With Murdered Woman in Chicago—
Officers Have Been Seeking Him and Think He Suicided.

Chicago, May 18.—Through the killing today of C. C. Dillon by a train near Willmette, a suburb of Chicago the mysterious murder of a woman in Los Angeles, Calif., appears to be partly solved.

It is declared through information found in investigating Dillon's death that the murdered woman was Mrs. Bessie Jones, who until six weeks ago lived with Dillon in Chicago. Search for Dillon had been widespread since the murder in Los Angeles, but no trace of him had been found until his body was found on the tracks. Reading about the woman's murder and the fact that he was being sought, led Dillon, the police believe to take his life.

Dillon is said to have told friends he had been in California after Mrs. Jones left Chicago. While he was in the west Dillon's wife and children were supported by relatives. The woman now identified as Mrs. Jones was found dead in a bungalow in Los Angeles several weeks ago. For days detectives were baffled in their efforts to find out who she was. Finally suspicion settled upon a man who resembled Dillon.

Last Saturday Dillon returned to Chicago. He carried a valise which fitted exactly the one owned by the slayer. When asked where he had been Dillon replied:

"On a vacation to the coast." Detectives learned that Dillon met Mrs. Jones about a year ago at Norfolk, Va. She is said to have followed him to Chicago. After that he divided his time between staying with his wife and four children at their home and with Mrs. Jones the detectives said.

Dillon was a comparatively poor man. He worked for an electrical contractor. Efforts of the police to find Mrs. Dillon after Mrs. Jones' picture had been partly identified were futile. She left home with her children to avoid being questioned.

One important link in the chain of evidence pointed to the identification of the dead woman is lacking. Mrs. Jones was not a Catholic, while the murdered woman wore the badge of the Sodality.

Dillon, however, was a Catholic, and the police believe that he may have insisted that the woman wear the insignia of the church.

DID NOT CALL SEVERAL STRIKE.
Freight Handlers, Uncertain as to Course to Be Followed.

Chicago, May 18.—The general strike order which was expected to be issued today by the officials of the International Brotherhood of Railway Freight Handlers was not put forth. A meeting was held at the call of President P. J. Fannery of the union, but the union officials could not agree on all the points under discussion, so an adjournment was taken until Monday.

Whether a general strike will be called next week is problematical. In a statement made yesterday, President Fannery said a strike was certain. Tonight, however, he modified his original assertion.

"I believe a general strike will be called," he said. "Nothing has developed which would cause me to think the freight handlers outside of Chicago will not go out. However, we have not decided to call a general strike."

BRITANNIA LAUNCHED.
Newport News, May 18.—Greeted by steam whistles and cheered by an enthusiastic assemblage of 20,000 spectators the 27,000-ton battleship Texas, twin sister of the New York, glided from her ways today at the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company.

As the vessel swept down to meet the water of the James river Miss Claudia Lyon, daughter of Col. Cecil Lyon, a wealthy ranch owner and Republican committeeman for Texas, broke the traditional bottle of champagne and formally named the ship. Grouped about the sponsor on the deck stand were numerous representatives of the state of Texas, together with Secretary Meyer and a number of other officials of the navy department and high officers of the navy.

The Texas is designed to be the largest and most formidable warship afloat. Her displacement is nearly four times as great as the old battleship of the same name. Her total cost will be in the neighborhood of $14,000,000. She will be the first warship of the American navy to carry a battery of 14 inch guns. Her contract calls for at least 21 knots an hour.

JUSTICE COURTS.
In Squire Dyer's court J. W. Robinson of Franklin was fined $5 and costs for assault and battery, the complainant being his wife, Mrs. Lucinda Robinson. The evidence was that the defendant had whipped his wife with a piece of leather strap.

SUB-COMMITTEE DID NOT MAKE

MENT SATURDAY.

Matter Has Been Left in Hands of Chairman Harry S. New—All Inquiries Are Referred to Him—
Speculation Rife as to Cause of Delay—Demand for Seats Far Exceeds the Supply.

Chicago, May 18.—The members of the sub-committee on arrangements for the Republican national convention adjourned here to night without naming a temporary chairman for the convention. After adjournment, Secretary Hayward announced that the committee had decided to leave the selection of a temporary chairman to Harry S. New, chairman of the sub-committee.

Mr. New said that the selection might not take place for several days. He denied reports that the action of the committee was caused by refusal of United States Senator Elihu Root of New York to accept the place.

"The temporary chairmanship was not offered to any one and therefore was not declined by any one," he said. "I cannot discuss the committee's reasons for this action. The matter was simply agreed upon by those members in attendance at the meeting."

Other members of the sub-committee declined to discuss the situation and all questions were referred to Mr. New. The postponement of the selection of a temporary chairman for the national convention came as a surprise, as earlier in the day members of the sub-committee had let it be known that they expected to name the temporary chairman before the committee adjourned.

A number of possible reasons for the delay in the chairmanship matter were advanced by interested politicians. Roosevelt leaders, that the postponement indicated that they had won their contention that the temporary chairman should not be selected until the result of the presidential preference primaries in Ohio, on Tuesday, be known.

Several matters were left unsettled by the sub-committee members. The question of a basis for the apportionment of seats in the convention was left unsettled, although several plans were discussed.

The demand for seats in the convention exceeds similar demands in any previous Republican convention. Members of the sub-committee said that much difficulty would be met in making a distribution of the 5,588 spectators' seats. Republican leaders in every state have filed requests for hundreds of these seats. Already these applications exceed the number of seats to be distributed by several thousand and the task of apportioning them will be a difficult one.

PHYSICIANS STUDY KIMMEL CASE

Give Mental Tests to Try Out Ability of Man Who Is Making Claim of Being Person Wanted.

Chicago, May 18.—Dr. Geo. W. Mitchell of Peoria, former chief of staff at the Illinois General Insane asylum, South Bartonville, with Dr. Loren Wilder today resorted to mental tests to determine the identity of the patient who declares he is George A. Kimmel.

Dr. Mitchell was invited to make any test he desired and chose the mental. Kimmel was asked to spell seventy-five words, which he did successfully, misspelling but one "separate," in which he used an "E." He smilingly explained that as a youth that word was always a stumbling block. He was given tests in translation of English into Latin and Latin to English.

The test convinced Dr. Mitchell that Kimmel is telling the truth and that the operation upon his brain is a success.

Asked if he remembered any important events prior to his disappearance in St. Louis in 1898, he told of a Chateaufort wreck and named several persons killed in that disaster. Learning that Dr. Mitchell had formerly lived in Bloomington, he told of a visit he had made there and volunteered further information of a personal nature.

Today Kimmel wrote his second letter since the operation. It was to his cousin, Dr. Wood of Omaha, who had written him not to put too much strain upon his brain until nature had repaired his injuries.

End Brazilian Valorization Scheme

The government also applied for a temporary injunction restraining the valorization committee from removing or disposing of coffee held in America pending the termination of the issue.

DECLINE TO MAKE PUBLIC APOLOGY

COLORADO MINISTERS WILL NOT GO TO ROCKFORD TO DO PEN-ANCE.

Swedish Free Church Demands That
They Make Amends for Giving
Credence to Stories Reflecting on
Rev. Gust Johnson Grief's Dream
Caused all the Trouble.

Rockford, Ill., May 18.—Rev. G. A. Young of Denver, Colo., and Rev. A. C. Leafgren declined to come to Rockford and make a public apology demanded by the Swedish Free church of this city, which charged the two clergymen with giving credence to certain stories reflecting on the character of its pastor, Gust P. Johnson. Rev. Mr. Johnson, president of the Swedish church conference of America, called for an investigation of the stories recently and was unanimously exonerated by the church.

It is said President Johnson's friends will try to have the Colorado clergymen disciplined at the national conference of the church in Denver next month. A Denver girl's dream is responsible for the stories reflecting upon Rev. G. P. Johnson of Rockford, Ill., for the alleged circulation of which Rev. G. A. Young and Rev. A. C. Leafgren of this city have been asked to apologize by the Free Swedish church of Rockford.

The young woman in an affidavit confesses all she alleged was a dream. At the time she first told the stories she was working in Rockford. Rev. A. C. Leafgren heard the stories and it is said asked Rev. Mr. Young to join with him in an investigation. Mr. Young, it is said refused. Mr. Leafgren then wrote letters to Rockford which fell into the hands of enemies of the Rockford minister.

DENY STORY TOLD BY HILLES

ROOSEVELT SUPPORTERS PUBL-ISH STATEMENT FROM BONA-PARTE.

Seek to Show That Taft Knew All About Harvester Prosecution Being Held Up and Approved Action
—Call Incident Degrading to Politics.

Washington, May 18.—A statement containing portions of a letter from former Attorney General Bonaparte, in which he says that Mr. Taft, as secretary of war, took part in the cabinet meeting at which it was decided to withhold prosecution of the International Harvester company, because of the bureau of corporations investigation, was issued by Senator Dixon from the Roosevelt National headquarters to day. The statement took the form of an answer to that issued from the white house last night by Charles D. Hilles, the president's secretary.

"Nothing more degrading has ever occurred in the history of American politics," the statement says, "than the attempt of Mr. Taft, through deliberate, knowing and sustained falsehood, to misrepresent the facts regarding the case of the International Harvester company and to avoid personal responsibility for non-action in the courts by the government against that company. The statement issued at the white house last night is but a piece of the mendacity that has characterized the entire Taft utterance on this subject."

"The facts themselves, of which Mr. Taft is undeniably aware and which are capable of complete demonstration, show:

"First, that Mr. Taft was present at the cabinet meeting, where the matter was discussed and the final decision reached, and that he not only had full knowledge of the matter, but took a deciding part in the determination."

"Second, that the senate, upon being made aware of the situation by Senator Hansborough, distinctly refused to stop the investigation by the bureau of corporations and permit the department of justice to proceed with its prosecution."

"Mr. Taft and his managers have sought mendaciously the escape responsibility for Mr. Taft's part in this matter, through the false pretense that because Mr. Taft was out of the country in the fall of 1907, he was not in position to know about or have anything to do with the matter."

"He was present at the cabinet meetings in January, 1908, and as Mr. Bonaparte's letter specifically shows, he not only took part, but the deciding part in the determination of the cabinet to postpone prosecution of the Harvester company, pending the investigation by the bureau of corporations. The statement made is a positive falsehood."

SEEK TO RECALL COMMISSIONER

Petitions Being Circulated in Springfield Asking for Removal of Spaulding—First Case of Kind in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—Petition asking for the recall of Commissioner of Public Works, William J. Spaulding, this city, were put into circulation this morning. Five hundred of the petitions printed and sent to all parts of the city and as soon as they are signed will be assembled and presented to the clerk of the board of election commissioners. While they make but a fly-by specific charges against Mr. Spaulding the petitioners say that last they will go more fully into the instances wherein they say the commissioner has shown incompetency.

The basis of the principal accusations are the management of the water works and the system of installing service connections. Other charges set forth in the petition are that he spent for the fiscal year ending February 29, 1912, for certain municipal purposes, more money than was appropriated for such purposes, that he spent large sums of public money in a wasteful and extravagant manner.

Those who took the initiative in circulating the petition claim that the move has the sanction of a large number of business men and while the plumbers' union has been connected with rumors that recent proceedings be started they are not the sole originators of the action.

According to the recall clause of the commission form law those wishing to recall a public officer must secure the signatures of fifty-five per cent of the total vote at the last regular city election. This means that the petitioners seeking to remove Spaulding must secure $6,000 names, as at the last regular city election 11,465 votes were cast. The petitioners are confident that they will have the required number and that a successor to Spaulding will be chosen.

PANAMA CANAL BILL.
Washington, May 18.—Convicted that there was no hope of completing the reading of the Panama canal administration bill tonight the house gave up in despair, and adjourned. It is possible that consideration of the measure cannot be resumed before Tuesday. Debate on the bill was vigorous, especially on the section providing for tolls, that all the house legislative machinery could not move the measure along on schedule time.

TAFT CONFIDENT OF OHIO RESULT

PRESIDENT BELIEVES HIS AP-PEAL TO STATE PRIDE NOT IN VAIN.

Used Plain Language Saturday But the Old Smile Had Returned—Attacks Roosevelt's Tariff Views—
Veteran at Lima Is Enthusiastic.

Springfield, Ohio, May 18.—Confident of his appeal to the pride of Ohio, has been to some avail and that his chance of capturing this state delegation to the Republican national convention has improved greatly since he crossed the Ohio river last Monday, President Taft to day closed the week's campaigning with a speech here.

Only one more day, Monday, will be devoted by the president to this campaign. When he makes his last speech at Dayton on Monday night, he will have traveled almost 3,000 miles in Ohio, will have spoken in every congressional district in the state, and have listed 73 of its 88 counties.

Ohio politicians who have talked with Mr. Taft say that never in the state's history has there been such a campaign. In his talks to date to the farmers in the counties along the western border of the state, from Lake Erie southward, the president's feeling of confidence in the outcome was reflected in his manner.

Old Smile Came Back.
Although he used plain language about Col. Theodore Roosevelt and the "Ohio bosses" at times, his old smile, that has appeared but seldom of late, was again in evidence, and he talked optimistically of the coming election with friends aboard his private car.

The president's opinion of Mr. Roosevelt's tariff reform ideas was concisely set forth at Paulding. He said:

"Mr. Roosevelt has finally come to answering a question on protection, something which he has avoided for years and years. He has now reached a discovery. He is in favor of that kind of protection that will produce a profit in business so that most of its goes through the office down into the pay envelope of the wage employee. That is a very good kind of a protection if you can get it."

"He states the conclusion that he would like to reach, without stating how he is going to bring it about. You can promise those things and say that is what you would like to have, but until he develops a statute which shall show you how he is going to do it, you are I have the right to say, that is all very well; that is painting something to sell, not to use."

Veteran Made Answers.
At Lima, late o day, an old soldier in his audience who sat up near president asked a question and usually had an answer ready that showed his approval of Mr. Taft administration.

"I ask your support next week in the primary for an Ohio president who has made good," the president said.

"We will elect you again," the old soldier announced calmly, as he arose. The president suggested that he take his seat.

"Go to it, old stocking; go ahead old boy," continued the soldier.

"No," the old soldier said, "I'm going to stand up; stand up and listen to me."

When the president came to a discussion of the Lorimer case and Mr. Roosevelt's charges against him in connection with it, he wound up by asking if Abraham Lincoln would have acted in that manner as Mr. Roosevelt acted.

The old soldier again arose. "He would have dropped dead first," the veteran said sadly.

FRANKLIN LOSES THREE CITIZENS

MORGAN COUNTY RESIDENTS PASS AWAY SUDDENLY.

William T. Luttrell, Mrs. Moses Burnett and Benjamin H. Burch. Called by Death Saturday—Mr. Burch Found Dead and Coroner Skinner Holds Inquest—Funeral Announcements.

William T. Luttrell, a veteran of the Civil War and one of the best known residents of the county, died Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at his home two and one-half miles south of Franklin. For two or three years Mr. Luttrell had been in failing health but his condition was not such as to cause alarm until about a week ago when he became seriously ill and gradually grew weaker until the end.

William T. Luttrell was born on the farm where he died December 20, 1831, the son of John R. and Margaret (Duncan) Luttrell, both natives of Kentucky. His grandfather, was Thomas Luttrell, who came to Morgan county from Adair county, Kentucky, in 1822, bought land and built a saw and grist mill on Apple Creek. He was one of the early pioneers of Morgan county and served as judge at Apple Creek precinct in the first Morgan county election.

Mr. Luttrell's father, John R., devoted his life to farming and on reaching manhood bought eighty acres of land to which he later added another eighty. He was married in March, 1831, and he and his wife reared a family of seven children, five sons and two daughters. William T., being the first born of the family.

William T. Luttrell was reared to farming in his boyhood, meanwhile attending school near his home, and still later in the villages of Franklin and Waverly. He was married in 1869 to Mary F. Burnett, who died February 14, 1870. He chose for his second wife Eliza A. Wright, to whom he was married February 20, 1887. She was a daughter of William Wright of Scott county, Ky. Her father moved to Morgan county in 1829, and was a soldier in the Black Hawk war of 1832, while her grandfather fought seven years in the Revolution, during which he was promoted to captain. The grandfather of Mr. Luttrell was also a soldier in the Black Hawk war.

Mr. Luttrell himself had too much of the ancestral blood in his veins to remain a quiet spectator during the Civil war. He therefore enlisted at Franklin on August 9, 1862, in Company H, 1st Illinois Infantry, and served until the close of the war. He entered the service as a second lieutenant and when mustered out at Washington had been promoted to the rank of captain. His regiment participated in many important engagements, including Sherman's march to the sea, the battles of Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga and for a time his duties lay in gunboat service on the Mississippi and in the siege of Vicksburg. Returning to Morgan county after the close of the war, Mr. Luttrell resumed farming, which proved very profitable for him, as he owned a well stocked and well improved farm of 340 acres. There is an art in blending coffees. Just mixing them won't do. It's something like making a salad dressing. You mix several ingredients of an entirely different nature together and the result is a delicious blend. STORM LEFT RUIN IN ITS PATHWAY

SATURDAY MARKED TWENTY-NINTH ANNIVERSARY OF TERRIBLE LITERBERRY CYCLONE.

Great Loss of Life and Property Came in a Minute's Time When Wind Shattered the Little Village—Story of the Disaster Retold From Journal Files.

The Literberry cyclone, which caused such a great loss of life and property, occurred May 18, 1888, just twenty-nine years ago Saturday. The storm also resulted in three deaths in Greasy Prairie and Durbin neighborhoods and there was heavy property loss there also. The storm was general and swept almost all through the state of Illinois and the total number of fatalities reported was in excess of 60.

Mrs. Ruth A. Rucker, then Miss Griffin, who was buried Saturday, was one of those who was injured in the storm, their home being completely wrecked. A sister and a brother were killed and J. A. Crum, who resided at Literberry at that time, said Saturday that he well remembered carrying out the lifeless form of Miss Griffin from the house debris and in aiding the injured sister. The story of the terrible disaster will doubtless be read with interest by many older residents and by others whose knowledge of the cyclone is a part of childhood's recollections. The following is taken from the Journal of May 29, 1888: Mr. Basley Moore, whose "archives" are very complete, has a copy of the paper of that date:

At an early hour Saturday morning, Conductor Dexter, of the Peoria branch of the Wabash, brought in his train due here Friday night. He arrived at Literberry just after the death dealing storm had struck the unfortunate place. The depot was in ruins, the track covered with debris.

The dead and dying needed immediate attention. He therefore took his train back to Virginia and Chandler, where for medical assistance, nurses, etc. Drs. Snyder, Caliday and Smith of Virginia, and Read of Chandler, responded promptly, returning with him. Drs. King and Clamph, who had been summoned by telegraph, came to the scene by hand car, consequently everything possible for the relief of the sufferers was done. At 6 a. m. the wounded were safely housed in our city hospital and the closest attention given to their wants.

First Sight of Storm.
From an eye witness and one of the injured—one of the Griffin brothers—we gathered this morning the following particulars:

The storm was first seen approaching the place from the southwest about 8:20 p. m. Mr. J. B. Griffin tells us that they were just closing their store when he saw the cloud which was in the shape of a pillar or column coming toward the town. He hastily finished closing up and sought his mother's house. While there the snow came with terrific force, lasting only a short time, the direction was from southwest to northeast, sweeping right through the residence and business portion of Liter. In those fatal 60 seconds fully three-fourths of the buildings in the town were completely demolished—destroyed as if crushed by a direct blow from heaven. The whole area of the storm's track was strewn with the timbers, bricks and debris of the ruined structures. But the saddest part of the story is the loss of life and the maiming of human beings. In that moment of time households were stricken with losses that can not be repaired in this life.

Loss of Life.
The names of the dead are: Mr. John Trotter, aged about 75. Mrs. John Trotter, his wife. Miss Agnes Griffin, aged 22. Mrs. Mary J. Stevenson, aged about 65.

Lilly Griffin, aged 7 months. John Hinchins, blacksmith, head injuries, skull was crushed and pieces of the bone have been taken out, yet he is not thought to be mortally injured.

Ed Litter, young son of Jonas Litter, injured in the head and not

Dr. S. Griffin, injured about the head and internally, has been unconscious ever since he was hurt.

Mrs. Dr. Griffin, leg broken and like her husband, still unconscious. J. B. Griffin, brother of Dr. G., right arm broken and slight head injuries.

J. S. Griffin, another brother, left leg broken.

Mrs. Sarah Griffin, mother of the last three, general shock to system. The above named were all brought to this city, the following victims being accommodated in the few houses remaining in the vicinity:

Miss Abbie Griffin, thigh fractured, scalp wound, clavicle broken and internal injuries; recovery doubtful. Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Hudson, badly bruised and cut.

Thomas Hammond and family of five or six more or less cut and bruised.

James Stevenson, slightly bruised. Mrs. George Vaughn, badly cut. David Campbell, badly bruised. Three children of Mrs. Elizabeth Foster hurt, one badly.

Mrs. Martha Ray and daughter, both badly bruised.

Mrs. Fleming, collar bone broken and bruised.

George Fleming and daughter, slightly bruised.

John Henry Litter, badly bruised; wife dangerously injured, cut in the head.

James Crum and family, slightly bruised.

Buildings Destroyed.

The dwellings destroyed were those of:

Mrs. Sarah Griffin, where she, her three sons and one daughter were injured and one daughter killed.

Dr. S. Griffin, where he and his wife were injured and his son hurt, his infant child killed. Hinchins, the blacksmith, also injured. The only one of the family that escaped death or wounds was little Freddie, two and one-half years old.

Mr. John Trotter, were both he and his aged wife met their death together.

James Stevenson, where his wife was killed.

A. W. Petefish.

Mrs. M. Ray.

C. K. Hudson.

James A. Crum.

George W. Fleming.

James Stevenson.

John H. Litter.

Mrs. E. Foster.

Mrs. M. Vaughn.

Besides these, partial destruction was the fate of the houses of Samuel H. Crum and T. T. Stout.

The Baptist and Christian churches were also both in the track of the wind, and both leveled to the ground.

The stores that suffered the same fate were those of Mrs. S. Griffin, drygoods, etc.; P. H. Rucker, groceries and P. O. G. W. Fleming, drugs, etc.; Litter & Coons, groceries, etc.

The Wabash passenger and freight depot and the carpenter and repair shop of Litter and Ray were also demolished. There was a general destruction of trees, outhouses, chimneys, signs, etc. The storm struck the south edge of the town, completely ruining everything in the central and southern portions, nearly the fourth of the place.

The railroad track was so piled with timbers and debris that the train could not well be brought on to this city until the morning. Very fortunately someone had presence of mind enough to warn the train as it came into Liter from the north or there would have been a wrecked train and more loss of life and injuries.

A Reporter's Story.

On the 9:20 train this morning the P. P. & J. R., a Journal reporter visited the scene of the disaster at Liter and has the following to say regarding the terrible disaster, in addition to what has already been said in these columns:

It seems that the storm was first noticed in the neighborhood of the Big Indian bridge between Arcadia and Jacksonville, and some two and one-half miles southwest of Liter. The storm traveled a little north of east. The first point where much destruction was noticed, farther than the tearing up of trees and carrying away of fences was the residence of Mr. Jerry Henderson, one and one-half miles from Liter. Here the house was torn literally to pieces.

Mrs. Henderson was very badly injured, and fears are entertained that she can not recover. An old gentleman living in a cabin on Mr. Henderson's farm was seriously injured and the cabin carried away.

Next in the track came a large, fine residence of Wm. Rexroat, which was unroofed and moved several feet from its foundation. Mrs. Rexroat was cut on the head by flying debris, but not seriously injured. The rest of the family escaped with plenty of scratches and bruises, none serious. Mr. Rexroat's large barn was carried away and several horses killed. Following came the large two-story frame building of Thomas Hammond, which was torn into splinters and scattered for miles along the track of the storm. Mr. Hammond, wife and four children who were in the house at the time, are all reported as being very seriously injured, and being cared for by the neighbor families, who were more fortunate than they in escaping the storm. The first house in Liter, visited by the storm was the large and elegant furnished residence of Aaron Petefish. Himself and six children were buried in the debris. How any human being could come out of such a mass of brick, broken timbers and furniture, alive, is the great wonderment of all who visited the scene of destruction. Following the destruction of this structure came the buildings of Thomas Litter, James Crum, Jesse Litter, Mrs. Sarah Griffin, Mrs. Ray, John Trotter, James Litter, John Hinchins, Cyrus Hudson, Samuel Crum, Geo. Fleming, Jesse T. Litter, Mrs. Vaughn, P. H. Rucker, James Stevenson, Lizzie Foster. The Baptist and Christian churches were also swept away to the foundation and totally destroyed. Following the dwelling portion came the business portion of the town. Not a business house is likely to live.

left standing in the place, the buildings as well as their contents being scattered for miles east of town.

A Destitute Site.

No one reading these hastily written lines can conceive or form but little idea of the desolate and heart sickening sight that is presented to all who visit the scenes in and about Liter. Men, women and children standing about their homes there all gone, carried away by the stormy elements, nothing left but the clothing on their backs.

The scene is horrible to look upon. Houses, trees, fences, everything scattered in confusion, freight cars were lifted from the track and carried some distance away. In one instance a flat freight car was lifted from the track, and after hurling through the air some two hundred yards distance, was driven through the dwelling house of Mr. Geo. Fleming. In this house was Mr. Fleming, wife and baby. At the time of the occurrence Mrs. Fleming was bent over the cradle of her infant offering up prayer, imploring God to be merciful to them. The house was demolished and the cradle torn to pieces, yet the baby and parents were but slightly injured.

Thomas E. Litter, son of Jonas Litter, who was in Griffin's store, died today from his injuries.

Dr. and Mrs. Griffin were no better at 11 o'clock last night. The former still remained unconscious. Dr. King made a trip to Woodlawn late in the evening to see Mrs. Oxy and her children. He found that lady in a very alarming and critical condition.

The house of Joseph Litter, in town of Literberry was torn to pieces. Mr. and Mrs. Litter and their child were in the house at the time it the former were badly bruised. The first though upon being extracted from the debris was to look for

LAID TO REST

Impressive Funeral Services Were Held Saturday in Memory of Mrs. Ruth Rucker.

The funeral of Mrs. Ruth Anna Rucker was held Saturday. A large number of friends gathered at the home, 614 South Main street at 9 o'clock, where a brief service was held. Rev. H. S. Alkire of Brooklyn church read from the 91st Psalm and from the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians. Then the minister offered a prayer full of fine feeling. With Mrs. W. P. Duncan at the piano Mrs. J. Bart Johnson sang "Lead Kindly Light."

Rev. C. R. Morrison, former pastor of Brooklyn and now of Hartsfield, made brief remarks. He pointed out the real meaning of present life as related to the life beyond and made it clear that for those whose years have been spent well that the time of going is but the entering into a larger sphere. Rev. Mr. Morrison had known Mrs. Rucker intimately and it was evident that he spoke with a full heart as he referred to her patience, to her gentleness, to the Christian devotion of her life. He said that Mrs. Rucker was of such a modest type of womanhood that any eulogy would have been distasteful to her, but he could not but mention his deep appreciation of the worth of her life.

After this service the casket was borne from the house by Messrs. T. B. Reeve, J. W. Moon, Hugh Vorhees, Frank Bourn, J. C. Melbride and Irvin B. Potter, all members of the Men's Bible class at Brooklyn church, in which Mrs. Rucker took a great interest. With her sons and her family were in the cortege. The casket was moved to Shiloh church, where Mrs. Rucker held her membership and where a large company assembled to pay the final tribute of respect to her memory. During the time that Mrs. Rucker lived in the Shiloh neighborhood she took an active interest in the work of that church and her family grew into the religious life there surrounded by the influences of that old church. Many long time friends of the family were in the assembled audience. Rev. W. M. Carter preached an appropriate sermon and made reference to the influence Mrs. Rucker had had upon the community. Rev. C. R. Morrison read from the scriptures and offered a prayer. Several hymns were sung by a quartet: Mrs. J. C. McMillen, Mrs. George Goebel, Joseph Luter and George Goebel.

THE WATER QUESTION SETTLED.
The one momentous question before the city of Jacksonville is that of water and now it can be reported as settled—as far as the Grand Laundry is concerned. No filth, no disease germs, no unsanitary water used. For years the Grand Laundry has had its own immense, never failing well of pure water on its own premises and absolutely all the water used at the laundry comes from it so that all who are particular about the sanitary condition of the water used for their washing may feel perfectly safe when they send their clothes to the Grand Laundry. As all know: without plenty of good, pure water it is difficult and unsatisfactory to undertake to do sanitary and satisfactory laundry work but at this place no such trouble exists.

DR. KENT NELSON SPEAKS OF TYPHOID

Makes Most Interesting and Instructive Address Before Members of Medical Club.

The Medical club met with Dr. A. R. Gregory Saturday evening and had with them, by invitation, Dr. Kent Nelson, major medical corps, United States army. Dr. Nelson was asked to speak on some of the work that was being done in the army against typhoid fever. The evening was devoted to discussion of Dr. Nelson's ideas and methods.

The following is taken from an extract from Dr. Nelson's address made by the secretary, Dr. C. E. Cole:

"The typhoid inoculation test has been thoroughly tried out in the English army, soldiers being inoculated going to Africa at the time of the Boer war. S. E. Wright firmly established the methods in the English army. Three years ago Major Russell, curate Army Medical Museum, Washington, first tried the typhoid inoculation on officers in the army, for a period of six or eight months. Next he tried it on enlisted men, who volunteered for the test. In March, 1911, troops were mobilized at San Antonio and Houston and a general order was given to vaccinate. Dr. Nelson at this time was at Houston. The vaccine used was made in Washington, under Major Russell's supervision.

Value of Inoculation.
"Immunization can now be compared favorably with smallpox vaccination. It is generally believed, among the officers of the army, that immunization lasts for three years, then the soldiers are to be re-vaccinated. In England it is believed that in the face of an epidemic the natural resistance is interfered with, by this vaccination. But in the American army, it is thought that this vaccination will prevent a sweeping epidemic and it is proper to vaccinate, when typhoid threatens.

"Many cities have now taken the matter up, notably Buffalo, N. Y., where a city ordinance compels vaccination against typhoid, when it is deemed necessary. In the army men 45 years old are exempt from the vaccination, but there are few of that age in the service. The American army is the first army in the world to have compulsory vaccination against typhoid."

Dr. Nelson believes that this has solved the question of typhoid in the American army.

Vaccination of this kind, after an infection of typhoid fever, and after the fever has started, is being tried with good prospect of success, but this is still the experimental stage.

In Life Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpelide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of dandruff and to prevent baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called hair growers.

Newness Herpelide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germs which feed on the hair roots. It is the original and only genuine hair restorer manufactured.

RICHESON TO PAY CRIME'S PENALTY

STORY OF THE MURDER OF HIS FORMER SWEETHEART IS TOLD.

Killed Avis Linnell With Deadly Poison That He Might Escape Disgrace and Marry an Heiress—Cold Blooded Calculation He Manifested Almost Beyond Comprehension—The Facts of His Career.

Boston, May 18.—The crime for which Clarence Virgil Thompson Richeson, at the time of his arrest pastor of the Immanuel Church of Cambridge, was sentenced to die in the electric chair, was the confessed murder of his former sweetheart, 19-year-old Avis Linnell, of Hyannis, a pupil in the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

The girl stood in the way of the ministers marriage to Miss Violet Edmonds, a society girl and heiress of Brookline, both through an engagement which still existed between the two and because of a condition in which Miss Linnell found herself. The girl was deceived into taking poison given her by Richeson, which she believed would remedy the condition, and died in her room at the Young Woman's Christian association, on the evening of October 14, 1911. On that day invitations had been issued for the wedding ceremony which was to unite Rev. Mr. Richeson and Miss Edmonds.

As pastor of a small church in the Cape Cod town of Hyannis two years before, the handsome and eloquent minister, then 33 years old, had been attracted to Avis Linnell, who was an exceptionally pretty girl of 17 years. She lived with her parents, her father, Edgar Linnell, being a contractor and builder. It was her ambition to become a teacher and she was attending the state normal at Hyannis.

Miss Linnell joined Richeson's church, was baptized by him and became a member of the church choir. In a short time, early in 1909, Miss Linnell was displaying a diamond ring and confided in her girl friends that she was to be married to the minister the following October. Abandoning her plan of becoming a school teacher, Miss Linnell began preparations for her wedding. Some of her trousseau was completed and the two paid a visit to Rev. Edward S. Cotton of Brewster, who was asked to officiate at the ceremony.

Friction developed between Richeson and his deacons in June, 1910, over the young minister's impetuous manner and his violent language. There was also a question as to the loss of $50 in money which had been left by a parishioner in the pastor's study. The minister declared he had been robbed of the money. Shortly afterward it was learned he had sent a similar sum by money order from a nearby town to a woman in Salt Lake, Utah. His resignation followed and he accepted a call to the Immanuel Baptist church of Cambridge.

When Richeson went to Cambridge Miss Linnell went to the Conservatory of Music in Boston. She was his devoted to attend the conservatory by the minister in the idea that by cultivating her voice, which had given signs of much promise in the Hyannis church choir she would better fit herself to become his wife. On the minister's recommendation the girl took a room at the Young Woman's Christian association quarters on Warren street, Boston. She proved a diligent student and continued her church work by teaching in the Sunday school of Tremont Temple, the leading Baptist church of the city. There were frequent meetings between Miss Linnell and Richeson.

The success which the young preacher attained in his new sphere of usefulness made a marked impression upon him. Surrounded by influential friends and associates his ambitions widened. He began to pay court to Miss Violet Edmonds of Brookline, the daughter of Moses Grant Edmonds, a prominent Baptist layman and trustee of the Newton Theological seminary, from which Richeson had been graduated. Miss Edmonds was prominent socially and was wealthy in her own right, as well as entitled to share in an estate of some $880,000 left by her grandfather. Entrance to the exclusive home of the Edmonds had been easy to the minister as the pastor of the church the family attended, and in a short time he was accepted as suitor for the daughter's hand.

At the same time Richeson was meeting Miss Linnell as formerly. But one day he borrowed the diamond ring he had given her, on the pretext that the stone needed resetting. He did not return it. Eventually he was exposed by Rev. Mr. Richeson and Violet Edmonds. The Linnell family demanded an explanation. The minister promptly declared the story a "newspaper fake" and was believed.

The invitations to the wedding of Richeson and Miss Edmonds were sent out on the afternoon of Saturday, October 14. That same afternoon Richeson dined with Avis Linnell at a little restaurant in the Back Bay. While there the girl appeared depressed. At times tears rolled down her cheeks. When she returned to her lodging place, however, she seemed cheerful, although quickly expressing herself and hurrying away to her room.

Crans were heard coming from a bath room of the association quarters shortly after 7 o'clock that evening. The door was broken in and Miss Linnell was found partially unconscious and apparently in great agony. Half an hour later she died without recovering consciousness. A belief that the girl had committed

As "Ed" Howe Sees Life

Nearly everything of value man knows was demonstrated with a lesson in which there was humiliation.

A boys idea of tough luck is to be unable to attend a circus on a bright afternoon and then have a rain storm come up at night. And is it tough luck for a man, too.

If you are not your own friend, what can you expect from others? In order to be your own friend, you must have a good job, a good reputation, and good friends.

Get a doctor in a corner and he will admit that that nature does the healing.

A man should be as polite all the time as a candidate for office.

Farmers are not the only ones who do it; we all put apples on top of the basket.

If you are willing to work, can do something well, and are reliable, none of the attempts to keep you down will succeed.

Do your prefer your prejudices to the facts?

An old lady who was criticising the men, said: "They're all alike; I never knew one who was different."

suicide was at first general, but her family were disposed to discredit the report and a thorough investigation was made.

Soon after the girl died, it was learned, that someone had telephoned to Richeson, as the girl's nearest friend, and informed him of the circumstances. He coldly denied at first that he knew the girl at all. Then finally admitting that she had been a member of his former parish in Hyannis, he suggested that her brother-in-law in Bridgewater be notified. Before hanging up the receiver he asked: "Did she say anything before she died?"

The theory of suicide was dispelled when the real conditions surrounding the death of Miss Linnell were made known. The girl had been sitting in a chair with her feet in a tub of hot water, while beside her was a fresh change of clothing. The autopsy revealed the fact that she had taken a dose of poison and the conclusion was drawn that she had done so in the innocent belief that it would remedy a condition that later would be a cause of great embarrassment.

On the day following the girl's death Rev. Mr. Richeson preached what was to be his last sermon in the Cambridge church, and in his prayer referred briefly to the death of a near friend. That afternoon, dining with a member of his parish in Somerville, he was able to eat but little and spent much time on a couch in apparent mental misery. He explained that he was overcome by the recent death of a "dear friend." That night he went to the home of Moses Grant Edmonds in Brookline, father of the girl to whom he was to be married and a week or so later and there remained in seclusion through the next few days preceding his arrest.

Scores of police and newspaper men took up the mystery of the death of Avis Linnell. It seemed apparent at the outset that the belief in a suicide theory was one which the murderer had planned to foster. Given the crime and the reason for it the next step was to find the man responsible for the condition of the victim. The police had not far to seek and the newspapers made no pretence at mystery in directing their suspicions. The girl had but one sweetheart and she made no concealment of her affection for Richeson.

In a week's time material evidence began to accumulate. A woman declared that Richeson had telephoned from her home making an appointment for the afternoon on October 14 with someone at the Young Woman's Christian association rooms. Richeson's landlady admitted her board had returned a bowl to her with the remark that she had better wash it thoroughly as it had been used to mix paste which had contained poison. The most damaging evidence, however, came from Wm. Hahn, a druggist of Newton Centre and a friend of Richeson. According to Hahn, Richeson came to him four days before the Linnell girl died and bought a considerable quantity of cyanide of potassium, explaining that he wanted "to kill a dog which was about to have puppies." A Cambridge electrician told of Richeson coming to his store on the afternoon Miss Linnell died and purchasing a peculiar shaped jar of candy, identical with a jar found in Miss Linnell's room. The minister had taken a Boston bound car in front of the police and told of seeing the pastor and the weeping girl eating together in a restaurant on the same afternoon. As a result of this information the police felt warranted in taking definite action.

The evening of October 19 Chief Inspector Dugan and members of his force went to the home of Mr. Edmonds on Devon street, in Brookline, to arrest Rev. Mr. Richeson on the suspicion that he was guilty of murder. Admission to the house was denied, although the hour was early. The police had no search warrant and did not feel justified in breaking in if the magnificent residence upon the uncertainty of Richeson being inside. They therefore remained on guard through the night, frequently knocking upon doors and windows to open and admit the officers.

The weary vigil was kept up until daylight, when a maid who appeared in the kitchen was prevailed upon to notify Mr. Edmonds that the officers were outside and would break in if the door was not opened at once. At 7 o'clock the police were admitted. Richeson was found in bed. He was ordered to dress and accompany the officers. Before leaving his house he took in his arms Miss Violet Edmonds, who was weeping hysterically. "Do not worry," he said, "everything will come out all right." The minister came out of the house in the murky dawn, passing between two rows of police, newspaper men and curious neighbors and was taken to police headquarters in Boston in a taxicab to be arraigned.

The case was set for October 31 for a hearing and Richeson was committed to the Charles street jail without bail. Within a few days the wedding invitations of the minister and Miss Edmonds, summoning the guests to the Edmonds home on October 31, were recalled.

Before the day of the hearing arrived a special session of the grand jury was called and an indictment charging murder in five counts was found. Richeson was taken into court to plead to the charge of murder on the day he was to have been married to Miss Edmonds. The trial of the case was set for January 15.

Richeson had early written to his church asking that judgment be suspended until after the grand jury sitting. On November 1 he forwarded his resignation, but the church on November 6, after a stormy meeting, refused to accept it. Later a second letter of resignation was sent and accepted on November 24.

The police had even at this time far from a satisfactory case against Richeson. The container of poison which Miss Linnell had taken could not be found. It was believed some vial or box might have been left in the pocket

AMERICAN LEAGUE REFUSE TO PLAY

Tigers Strike as Result of Cobb's Suspension—Players Will Stand Together—Pick-up Team Plays.

Philadelphia, May 18.—Baseball history was made here today when the players of the Detroit American league baseball club went on strike and refused to play the scheduled game with Philadelphia Athletics because Dan Johnson, president of the league, has refused to lift the suspension placed against "Ty" Cobb for striking a spectator in New York. As a consequence the Philadelphia team defeated a make-shift team placed on the field by Manager Jennings by 21 to 2. The Detroit team was made up mostly of Philadelphia amateur players, with the addition of McGuire and Sugden, employed by the western club as scouts.

The regular Detroit players went to the ball park, but when they learned, after short practice, that Cobb would not be permitted to play, they doffed their uniforms and returned to the hotel.

While the game was being played they discussed the situation and every one questioned said he felt that the "suspension of Cobb was an outrage, and they would stand together."

The players expressed the best of feeling toward the owners of the Detroit, but were outspoken in their criticism of Johnson. They said that if the matter is not settled they will go on "barnstorming trip."

Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, tonight said that Detroit had placed a team on the field according to the rules and that he had played and won the game. He would not comment further.

MILLIKIN AND I. C. TIE, 52 TO 52

Events Were Run Off on New Cinder Track, Causing I. C. Men to Lose Out in Races—Prins and Berry Break Records.

The outcome of the dual athletic meet between Illinois college and Millikin university, held at Decatur, Saturday, resulted in a tie, the score being 52 to 52. The Illinois men report the track at Millikin, a new cinder racing ground, in poor condition, which was adapted to the heavy men, such as Millikin had, but slow for the light, speedy athletes. The track was not provided with alleys for the men to run in and the pole vaulter of Illinois, who had been used to a board, were forced to do without the same. In the field events Illinois won every first. On track Millikin won 40 points with Illinois 16. Buchett was the biggest individual point winner, having 15, with Berry second, with 13. Tension and Smith of Millikin each won 13.

In the shot put Prins of Illinois broke the local record, making a distance of 35 feet, 5 inches, the old record being 34 feet, 11 inches. Berry broke the local record in the hammer throw, covering a distance of 133 feet, 9 inches. The strong race of Alford in the half mile was a feature of the contest.

The list of events and winners follows:
Half mile—First, Alford, Ill.; second, McDavid, M. U. Time 2:17 8-5.

220 low hurdles—First, Pinkstaff, M. U.; second, Tension. Time 28 4-5.

Hammer throw—First, Berry, Ill.; second, Myers, M. U. Distance 133 feet 9 inches.

Pole vault—First, Buchett, Ill.; second, Jaccard, Ill. Height 10 feet, 100 yard dash—First, Tension, M. U.; second, E. Smith, M. U. Time 10 2-5 seconds.

Shot put—First, Prins, Ill.; second, Berry, Ill. 35 feet 5 inches.

120 yard high hurdles—First, Buchett, Ill.; second, Pinkstaff. Time 18 3-5 seconds.

440 yard dash—First, E. Smith, M. U.; second, Sefton's. Time 55 flat.

Running—First, Buchett, Ill.; second, Staples, M. U. Distance 20 feet.

Discus throw—First, Berry, Ill.; second, Myers, M. U. Distance 99 feet 9 inches.

Those White Sox look like the real White Hope.

Shortstop Owen Bush of the Tigers is covering more ground than ever this year and hitting in grand form.

The games in the Cotton States league scheduled for New Orleans have been transferred for the present to Yazoo, Miss.

Fred Donohue is managing the Clinton team in the Illinois-Missouri league and has gotten them to going so well that all talk of giving up the franchise has been abandoned and Clinton will stick.

Johnny Kling is not finding the job of managing Boston a bed of roses. The owner, John M. Ward, wants results and it would not be surprising to see him assume personal control before the season is well advanced. The general impression in Boston is that Kling is too easy going and what the Red Sox need is a man with an iron hand at the helm. Perdue is doing the best of any of Kling's pitchers but even he is going only so so.

One reason for the Athletics' poor showing this far is that the pitchers have been in poor shape. Plank and Coombs have been under the weather, and Bender has been far from right. Morgan is about the only one Mack can rely upon at present. With warm weather there should be an improvement in the work of the staff and then the Macks will take their proper position, which is up near the top.

Umpire Bush is reported to have been slugged by an irate New York poster on the 4th of May. Klem and Bush were jostled and shoved about by the crowd and while passing under the bleachers on his way to the dressing room, one of the gang landed on Bush's neck and got away before the umps could get back at him. Those who know Bush are aware that he is no coward and it is just as well for Mr. Root that he made himself scarce. It is probable that the league will take some action looking toward better protection from spectators at the Polo grounds.

Judging from the way St. Louis hit in that game with Washington yesterday, not even the great Johnson could have stopped them. Akers evidently eased the slaughter, but was taken out to let Ainsmith bat for him and Becker finished the game. Johnson has it in his contract that he is not to be worked outside of his regular turn. It must have been a heart breaking contest and one that will make good reading in detail.

GOOD HEALTH

How To Keep It

How To Get It Back

In this column we will discuss Health and Disease and questions of general interest will be answered by responsible members of the regular medical profession. Those not proper for publication will be answered by mail if accompanied by addressed and stamped envelope, provided they do not relate to a disease from which the patient is then suffering. For such diagnosis and advice as to treatment consult your family physician.

Sanitary Rules For Camps.

Mr. Jerome Cochran, a civil engineer, has suggested twelve rules for keeping the camp in a sanitary condition. It seems appropriate to print these rules this season of the year, as many of our citizens are planning camp life for at least a part of the summer. The following are Mr. Cochran's suggestions and if carried out will undoubtedly make a camp much more healthful as well as slightly and pleasantly:

1. All open windows must be carefully screened to preclude flies and mosquitoes.
2. No food whatever shall stand about uncovered except at mealtime.
3. Water from brooks or creeks must not be used for drinking or cooking purposes.
4. All kitchen waste, solid and liquid, must be put in tightly covered tins or in a garbage hole and every evening covered with earth.
5. The dry-closet pails must be emptied frequently and the contents thoroughly covered with earth or otherwise satisfactorily disposed of and not allowed to become a nuisance.
6. The camp closets must be used exclusively; the "method of Moses" will not be tolerated about the camp.
7. No paper or rubbish shall be scattered about the camp; such material must be collected, and burned or buried.
8. Mosquito pools in or about the camp shall be treated with kerosene or other oil at least every ten days and oftener if found necessary.
9. Weeds and grass must be kept short around the camp.
10. All dead animals found around the camp must be immediately buried or otherwise disposed of.
11. Proper precautions shall be taken against infectious diseases.
12. All other sanitary rules shall be strictly enforced as may be ordered by the state board of health.

Morphin Frauds.

It is almost beyond understanding how so many people are engaged in direct attempt to defraud the public at the expense of life and happiness. Recently the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States government secured a judgment against the Society of St. James of New York city for selling morphin to morphin habitues under the guise of a "cure." They would send a series of bottles labeled 1 to 10, containing a mixture of morphin and alcohol to the poor dupes. They were caught by the Pure Food and Drugs act which was able to show that the product was not as stated on the label.

House Flies.

The approach of summer brings up the question of flies. Formerly flies were driven out of the house because they were a nuisance but since the fly has been convicted by science as a disseminator of disease and a carrier of contagion, constant warfare has been waged against it. In 1898 there was so much typhoid fever in the military camps of the Spanish war that the government made an investigation which fully confirmed all the charges "against this tantalizing insect." If you wish to escape the danger of fly borne disease put your screens up early and thoroughly and do away with all sources of propagation for the nasty fly.

The Real Spring Tonic. Now is the time to take a spring tonic; not a tonic that some one has concocted and patented; not one of these so-called "alters," made of bad whiskey and bitter herbs; but the spring tonic, the tonic that "tones" and doesn't make you a drunkard or a drug fiend.

This tonic isn't patented. You can't buy it at a drug store. You can't order it from any wholesale house. But if you open your windows wide enough at night it will come in in wholesale quantities, and if you will only throw your shoulders back and breathe like a human being you will be able to take to yourself many a cubic yard of it every hour of the day.

You owe it to yourself to grasp every opportunity to get to where this tonic can be had. If you live and work in a place where "outdoors" is a mockery, try to get away from it once a week anyhow. Its a simple remedy; this natural spring tonic, merely air that is pure, but it is astonishing how few people realize its effectiveness. Most people say doctor somebody's blood bitters instead and get something that is more bad booze than anything else. Incidentally this natural spring tonic is a good summer tonic and fall tonic, and, though it is exceedingly difficult to convince folks of this, it is a good winter tonic too.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

The "Old English May Day," which had to be postponed on account of the unfavorable weather, will be given on the Illinois college campus Monday afternoon. The procession will enter at 2:30, but those who can arrive on the grounds by 4 o'clock will probably not miss any of the performances. The senior vacation begins on Monday, May 20.

The Rev. Hy S. Alkire, of the Brooklyn M. E. church, will address the students at the chapel exercises Tuesday morning.

President Rammelkamp will attend the meeting of the Illinois State Historical society on Thursday.

Miss Alma Gibbs, Roy Sayre, Mrs. W. C. Coultas, Mrs. George Ransom, Mrs. H. Smart, and Miss Nettie Sheppard were all arrivals in the city from Lynville Saturday.

STORM LEFT RUIN IN ITS PATHWAY

their child. They soon found the little one safe and sound. The baby was unharmed, but neither her nor his wife were seriously injured though much bruised.

Cyrus Hudson occupied the dwelling of C. J. Berry at Litter. The building was ruined, but neither he nor his wife were seriously injured though much bruised.

Mrs. James Stevenson met her death at Litter while making the descent into her cellar. She had at first refused to go down and had delayed persistently. Finally her son grasped her and was taking her down by force when the crash came in which she died. Had she acquiesced in the first proposition to retire to the cellar she would doubtless be still living. Though all the other members of the family, (who were already in the cellar) were more or less bruised and none were seriously injured—thanks to their precaution.

James Crum occupied the house of Thomas Litter. Mr. Litter boarded with Mr. Crum. He and the family and Mr. and Mrs. Litter, who were visiting them, took refuge in the out-door cellar or dugout and they were all saved, escaping unharmed, while the house was blown to atom.

A fence rail was blown through the dwelling of Wm. Malville, occupied by Abram Litter, four miles east of Litter.

Dr. Griffin's baby, seven months old, was found last Saturday morning under the debris of the post-office, badly mutilated.

The dwelling house of Geo. Leonard, just east of town was blown to pieces. No one seriously injured.

A fine large dwelling house, some five miles east of Litter, belonging to Mr. Vandeventer, was totally destroyed. Occupants slightly injured.

Taylor Henderson just west of Litter, lost 80 head of sheep in the storm.

Bayles Rexroat, lost 12 head of hogs; Samuel Crum, Abram Litter and others lost heavily in stock.

A pair of cultivators were lifted up near town and carried more than a half mile.

About 150 persons from Jacksonville went out to Litter on yesterday morning's train.

A horse and buggy hitched in front of one of the business houses, has not been heard from since the storm.

Walter Humphrey, artist from the photographic establishment of Mr. McKinnon, West State street, was on the grounds and took several fine views.

Joseph Litter, wife and child, were brought to this city, on the noon train yesterday and were conveyed to the residence of Mr. S. W. Black, the father of Mrs. Litter. Mr. Litter is very seriously injured in the head, and Mrs. Litter in the back. Both are considered dangerously injured. The little child will recover, being only slightly bruised.

Mr. Dode Stout flagged the incoming train on the P. & J. R. Friday night, just in time to save it being wrecked in the debris of the cyclone.

A relief committee was formed on the grounds yesterday, and quite a sum of money raised for the relief of those made homeless by the destructive storm.

SECURED WATER SAMPLES. Ralph Hilleber of the Illinois State Water Survey has returned to Urbana after a brief Jacksonville visit. He took back five containers of water for analysis. The water came from the Widenham & Daub wells.

THE CLASS OF '08. William McCormick has received a letter from Dr. Joseph Meek of the class of 1868, Illinois college, stating that the writer expects to be in the city for the reunion of the class and to be Mr. McCormick's guest. The two "bached it" together when in college and have a warm regard for each other.

CHINESE RELIEF WORK.

Sixty Missionaries Are Engaged in Helping the Starving.

Shanghai, China, May 18.—About sixty missionaries are now engaged in furnishing relief to the sufferers from the famine. Two men are assigned to every center where relief is being distributed.

Those in charge of the work say that the need is still very great as the committee has thus far been able to relieve only about 10 per cent, to 15 per cent, of the total distress. The receipts of the committee to date have been approximately $96,000.

Those receiving help are required to work, but the amount that each family can earn is limited. The wages are 2 cents gold a day. If a man has three members in his family they are permitted to earn a total of 6 cents a day, or if there are four in the family they may earn 8 cents.

The people respond willingly even to these starvation wages, and the gentry themselves insist on keeping the rate down so as to relieve as many as possible. Two hundred thousand persons are being helped.

The country in which the relief is centered has, much of it, been looted several times until it is in a condition of the most absolute destitution. The people have lost all their animals, and have sold everything that was salable. Thousands of them have torn down the roofs from over their heads and have used the thatch for fuel and sold the roof timber for a few cents to buy a little grain or bean cake. This cake is the residue of the Soya bean left after extracting the oil and is generally used for fertilizing the fields. Those, however, that have some bean cake now deem themselves very fortunate and cannot get on the famine lists, for relief is given only to those who are in absolute destitution.

There is the probability of other famines in the not distant future, unless the government will undertake at once to provide money, even though at a comparatively small scale for reclamation works. Many will be entirely without relief even when the wheat crop is harvested, and only by the government furnishing work can this state of destitution be brought to an end. It is difficult to say how soon the government will undertake this matter, but the committee is in touch with many of the men who are in high authority, and will do everything in its power by means of the local press and by such influences as it may command to induce the government to undertake the work which only it can do.

Misses Ethel and Nellie Crain, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swain of Frontie, were in the city yesterday.

RICHESON TO PAY CRIME'S PENALTY

et of Miss Linnell's bath robe, which had been buried with her. The body was disinterred in Hyannis on October 21 and brought to Boston for post mortem examination by five prominent physicians. The cause of death was confirmed, but no additional evidence was found.

At the same time the police began an investigation into the life of Richeson. Every important act of his life from the date of his birth at Rose Hill, Va., 35 years ago, until his advent in Cambridge was gone into. It was found that he went to school early at Amherst Courthouse, Va., high school, then went to Carrollton, Mo., to work for a brother and attended a local academy. Three years later he went to Liberty, Mo., and entered William Jewel college to study for the ministry. While a student he supplied pulpits in Kansas City, Mo.; Steavenville, Miss.; Paso, Texas; Louisville, Ky., and other places.

Richeson's life had not been an undisturbed one, it was learned, and many tales were related of his entanglements with young women. At Liberty, Mo., while in William Jewel college, he had been engaged to the daughter of a professor. The young woman lent Richeson money to pursue his studies and up to the time of his coming to Hyannis believed she was to be his wife. In the meantime she developed tuberculosis, which still necessitates her remaining in Salt Lake, Utah. The one bright ray in Richeson's career appeared to be that he repaid the money loaned him as fast as possible. The final amounts were sent from Hyannis shortly before he came to Cambridge.

Richeson was expelled from William Jewel college for cheating in examinations shortly after he had been ordained at the First Baptist church in St. Louis. For a time he worked as a conductor on the street cars of the latter city and was prominent in a strike of street car men, his fiery eloquence making him a natural leader.

While at Budd Park Baptist church in Kansas City, Richeson became involved with a widow. One Sunday she appeared unexpectedly during the church service. Richeson, upon seeing her, fell in a faint. A brother of the woman, called at Richeson's rooms and the young minister left town suddenly. A note to the deacons explained that he had been driven away by a jealous woman.

At another church three young women interrupted the service one Sunday. Simultaneously rising each inquired of the minister if he intended to carry out his promise to marry her. The sensation led the deacons of the church to write for the pastor's resignation.

Richeson entered Newton Theological seminary in the fall of 1906 and graduated in 1909. During his course he earned money by working in restaurants and shoe stores. He was called to the Hyannis church in 1909 and remained there until June, 1910, when he resigned to accept the pastorate of the Immanuel Baptist church in Cambridge. Rumors of his interest in women while a preacher in Massachusetts have been current. Miss Edmunds, upon the arrest of her fiancé, left Cambridge to escape publicity and, it is said, has been engaged in charity work.

Interest in the case was intensified on December 20, when it became known that Richeson had mutilated himself in his cell at the Charles street jail. The public apparently lost all sympathy for the prisoner following his strange act, which was interpreted as a confession of guilt. At Hyannis, the home of Avis Linnell, the minister was hung in effigy, with a placard on the dummy reading, "Guilty. Read Luke 17:2." In Boston a conference of Baptist ministers was called and Richeson was formally deprived of his title of Reverend.

Richeson confessed his guilt in a statement written by himself on January 3 and given out by his counsel on January 6. The confession was addressed to his counsel and read: "Deeply penitent before my sins and earnestly desiring as far as in my power lies, to make atonement, I hereby confess that I am guilty of the offense of which I stand indicted. I am moved to this course by no inducement of self benefit or leniency. Heinous as is my crime, God has not wholly abandoned me, and my conscience and manhood, however depraved and blighted, will not admit of my still further wronging by a public trial for whose pure young life I have destroyed.

"Under the lashings of remorse I have suffered and am suffering the tortures of the damned. In this I find a measure of comfort. In my mortal anguish I recognize there is still, by the mercy of the master, remnant of the divine spark of goodness still lingering with me. I could wish to live only because within some prison walls I might, in some small measure redeem my sinful past, help some despairing soul, and at last find favor with my God.

"You are instructed to deliver this to the district attorney or to the judge of the court. Sincerely yours, Clarence V. P. Richeson."

Richeson was taken into court on January 9, pleaded guilty of the murder of Miss Avis Linnell and was sentenced to be electrocuted at the Charlestown state prison in the week beginning May 19.

A negro murderer, Henry H. Butts, has been the constant companion of Richeson since his act of self mutilation. The negro has taken a certain pride in serving Richeson, who has become so attached to the attentions of Butts that the negro has been allowed to remain, although his crime calls for imprisonment at Charlestown.

The counsel for the condemned man went through his efforts during the past few weeks to securing support for a petition for a commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

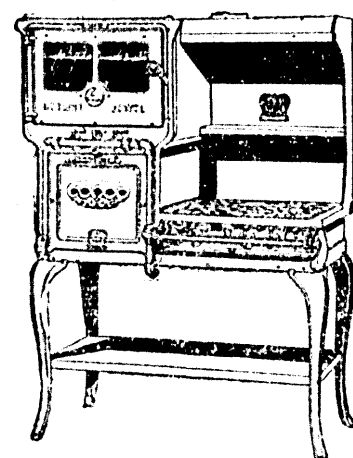

Put a Detroit Jewel Gas Range in Your Kitchen

WE know from experience that there are no other gas ranges made which give anywhere near such universal satisfaction in the long run. There are other gas ranges which to the casual observer may look just as good as Detroit Jewels, but when you come to analyze them and compare each feature part by part, the value of the DETROIT JEWEL is at once apparent.

Take those Detroit Jewels for illustration. Note the general symmetry of the design, the superb construction and the excellent quality of castings and workmanship; next note the generosity of the large top, now remove the key plates which you will find are not only true and even but made for service and durability. Examine the burners which are star shaped to admit plenty of air to the points of combustion. They are so constructed that they do not warp and get out of place from the heat, a common fault with many other makes.

A Money Saver

There are three regular burners, one giant burner and one simmering burner in this stove, so that you can always secure just the degree of heat desired without waste of gas. As you open the oven door you will notice the finely designed wood-bar handle, which you can take hold of anytime without burning your fingers. The oven is exactly square, which is the most economical size in every case. The oven bottom is of cast iron, very durable, with a removable lid in the center, which makes it very convenient for boiling onions, cabbage, etc., as the odor is carried up the chimney.

They are by all odds as perfect gas ranges as it is possible to buy. We would like to send you one of these good gas ranges on trial and if after you have used it a short time it is not satisfactory in every respect we will gladly take it back and refund your money.

Don't fail to see our new model with high oven and gas door showing the operation inside the oven.

Every part of the interior, flue lining, oven bottom, etc., easily removable for cleaning, having no bolts or screws to hold them in place. The supply pipe is larger than on most stoves, and will furnish enough gas for all the burners to be used at the same time. Grain Letter.

Chicago, Ill., May 18.—Wheat—More liquidation and much short covering, in short, general evening up, was the chief feature of today's market. Crop news from soft wheat sections is still distinctly and decidedly bullish. Hard wheat territory and the west generally sends bearish reports. Monday's statistics are expected to be bearish. The opening of Dardanelles will release Russian and Danubian wheat and may have a depressing influence on Liverpool and Continental markets. Foreign markets, however, during the recent severe break have shown a very firm tone. A tremendous short interest has been established during the recent decline and covering operations will cause sharp rallies. There is much long wheat that will be for sale on any advance and no rapid return need be expected. The situation as a whole appears bullish. Investments made on sharp breaks should return profits.

Corn—Conditions similar to wheat, leading bulls have given May and other futures active support. A steady demand from shorts also helped the market. Many traders recently have been heavy on short side. A short interest has been created, covering of which will advance price. Crop news, while largely good is not enthusiastically so. There is still much danger in the short side of May corn, as it is stubbornly held, arrivals are not burdensome. The break may further decrease movement. We look for May corn to see many sharp rallies. July is different. It will be influenced by the after-planting movement which should be heavy by the first of the month. We look for some sharp rallies, but feel that sales of July on bulges will pay handsomely, with moderate protection and some patience.

Oats—Oats are still demoralized from there recent pounding. Liquidation has been thorough. Holdings have gone into strong hands. Bull factors responsible for the recent advance it will exist for some time. Stocks are greatly reduced. Reduced price levels will be not acceptable to farmers who can use oats to advantage at home. The immense amount of farm work yet to be done will probably wipe out farm stocks. Conditions have been against seedling. Acreage has been curtailed and was further reduced by wet weather. Reports are not satisfactory. We still hold strongly to the opinion we advanced some time ago, when oats were around present level, that higher prices are fully justified. We feel investments at this level or on any decline will be profitable.

Provisions—Trade light, market easy, high prices have decreased consumption. Cash demand is quite liberal. Receipts of hogs are expected Monday and next week. Traders are looking for further declines.

GOOD NEWS.

CURES OLD SORES

To every person suffering with an old sore or chronic ulcer, the very best news in this paper is contained in the present article. It is good news because it is true; it tells of a way to get rid of these plague spots which so often sap the strength and vitality, and best of all, this permanent cure is in reach of every one.

It is an absolutely true statement to say that every old sore or chronic ulcer exists solely because of bad blood. Outside contaminations or influences may increase the local inflammation, but such things have nothing to do with keeping the place open. It is the infected blood discharging its impurities through a weak spot on the flesh that does this, and the sore will continue, gradually growing worse, until the blood is purified of the exciting cause.

See how nature points to the cause through the symptoms. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that external applications never have any curative effect on the sore, show that deep down in the circulation there is a morbid cause which prevents the place from healing. But more convincing proof that bad blood is responsible for old sores, is furnished by the fact that even removing every visible trace of the ulcer by surgical operation does not cure; the sore always returns.

S. S. S. heals old sores because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation and removes the cause from the blood. When the blood has been purified there is no longer any inflammatory or infectious matter to irritate the place and nature causes a natural and certain healing of the ulcer. When S. S. S. has cleansed the circulation and the place is well, it is not a surface cure, not simply a smothering over of the outward evidence, but it is a perfect and permanent cure, because every vestige of the old cause has been driven out. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, cleansing and invigorating in their nature, and of great tonic value. It is a medicine adapted to persons of any age, and is just as effective with the old as with the young or middle aged. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is greatly strengthened and benefited. To hear of S. S. S. has been good news to thousands, it is good news for you.

If you wish any special advice about an old sore or ulcer write for our free book, and ask our medical department to give any instructions you may feel the need of. No charge for the book or advice. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

THE INDIAN MEDICINE MAN

was chosen by his tribe in pioneer days because of his expert knowledge in combining medicines from roots and herbs to cure disease. They could conquer diseases that today baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham nearly forty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for female ills deemed more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs. Today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized the world over as the standard remedy for female ills.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, May 18.—Ohio, the home state of President Taft, candidate for renomination on the Republican ticket, and of Judson Harmon, who aspires to head the Democratic presidential ticket, will have a practical monopoly of the political stage the coming week. With the exception of the Democratic state convention in Virginia, the primaries to be held by both parties in Ohio Tuesday will furnish the only event of the week for the selection of delegates to either of the national conventions. Immediately after the close of the Ohio campaign President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt will turn their attention to New Jersey, which is to furnish the battle ground one week later. Both the leading Republican candidates and Senator LaFollette also will be heard in New Jersey toward the end of the week.

To demonstrate the evolution of transportation methods, especially in the United States and Canada, a Travel and Vacation exhibition will open Thursday in the Grand Central palace in New York city, to continue for one week. The exhibition will be the first of its kind ever held in the United States.

A great concrete causeway at Galveston, Texas, connecting the island with the mainland, will be formally opened Saturday with elaborate ceremonies. The completion of this great engineering achievement marks the final completion of all of the more or less protection works undertaken by Galveston since the flood that devastated the city ten years ago. The cost of the works aggregates nearly $10,000,000.

The annual regatta of the American Rowing association, popularly known as the American Henley, will be held Saturday on the Schuylkill river course at Philadelphia. The contestants in the several events will include crews from Cornell, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Yale, Columbia, Harvard and numerous smaller colleges and schools.

Famous experts in inland and ocean navigation from all parts of the world will attend the twelfth international congress of navigation, which will begin its sessions Thursday in Philadelphia. As a result of the recent Titanic disaster it is expected that the question of safety in maritime navigation will have a prominent place in the discussions.

Other important gatherings of the week will include the annual meeting of the Northern Baptist General convention at Des Moines, the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' association at New Orleans, the American Unitarian association in Boston, the National Association of Manufacturers at New York, the Associated Advertising Clubs of America at Dallas, the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis at Toronto, the National Association of Piano Merchants at Atlantic City, the National Society Sons of the American Revolution at Boston, and the Mississippi Valley conference of women suffragists at Chicago.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed. Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance. The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a liquid laxative- tonic, mild, and never gripes, is effective on robust people and can be given with safety to an infant. Children like it because of these gentle qualities and because it is pleasant to the taste. It is the best all-around remedy you can have in the house for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, and many people like Mrs. H. H. Moran, Thornton, Ill., and John G. Rollins, Dewey, Ill., say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or a dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.
